

Movie Club

Contributed by Michael Jones
Wednesday, 30 August 2006

How often do you watch movies? This is a pertinent question that should be taken seriously if you want to save some cash in the entertainment department. Just think about it. How often do you venture of to the theater to catch a flick on the big screen, or rent some DVDs to view at home? Many of us do this every week. We all know that Friday night is the big night. And since we all fork out the dough for our love of movies, it's time we shopped a tad more wisely. Have you ever heard of a movie club? These are rather prominent now days. While so many people already take advantage of the great deals provided by music clubs, the movie clubs aren't considered as much yet. Well, it's time to change things. It's time to save your hard-earned cash, folks.

If you didn't already know, Columbia House has a movie club. Ah ha, you've seen this name before. Of course you have; they're well known for their music club. Well now it goes both ways. You can further save by paying less for your movie habit. What flicks are you into? I can't lie; I love those cheesy Horror films. While I'm clearly aware of their lack of taste and cinematic genius, they still fulfill the ultimate aspect of film. They entertain! Now if something doesn't entertain, how can you call it entertainment? Anyway, I purchase a variety of these cheese-ball horror flicks via a movie club online. Hey, if you're not jacked into cyberspace, you're certainly missing out on infinite deals and bargains. Have you discovered an online movie club yet? While Columbia House is definitely one of the big guys on the block, they're by no means the only one around.

Many of the movies we watch, we're interested in purchasing. These are the ones we need a low priced movie club for. While I do all my renting on Netflix.com, once in a while I'll run into a motion picture that touches my heart and I have to acquire it permanently. Okay, that's a load of bull. It's probably some tacky slasher film that gets my juices flowing. Regardless of what films do this for you, you can surely find them all at a good movie club. Hop online today and see what prices and monthly deals are available. It's time to purchase those flicks you can't live without and stop re-renting them over and over. It's time to save your hard-earned cash.